DEMOCRATS CHEERED AS ELECTIONS SHOW POWER FOR CONTROL

HOUSE STRENGTH INDICATES DEMOCRATS 217 AND REPUB- LICANS 215 SEATS

Washington, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Democrats gained a numerical majority in the house of representatives in yesterday's elections and looked forward to electing a speaker and taking control of committees when congress meets December 7.

Some doubt still remained, however, as to which party would actually gain command on the showdown. It is yet possible for the republicans to create a tie. In this case the result might turn on absentees and private deals for individual defections impossible to foresee.

The election resulted in the following house strength:
Democrats, 217.
Republicans, 215.
Farmer-labor, 1.
Vacancies, 2.

Democrats were cheered by the results of the scattered voting throughout the country despite the fact it was not regarded generally as conclusive as to the drift of sentiment in relation to next year's presidential race.

In New York state, democrats failed to get control of the assembly though they needed to gain only six seats. They also failed, in a hard fight, to seize the old Longworth congressional seat in Ohio, republicans holding it with an easy lead for John B. Hollister.

Democrats attached importance to the election of former Governor A. Harry Moore as governor of New Jersey over David Baird, Jr., republican, whose election was urged by administration spokesmen as a gesture of moral support for President Hoover.

WOMAN JUROR IN FOSHAY TRIAL FACES CHARGE OF PERJURY

SPECIAL PROSECUTOR CLAIMS MRS. CLARK WAS EMPLOYED BY DEFENDANT AT ONE TIME

Minneapolis, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Mrs. Genevieve A. Clark, only woman member of the Foshay mail fraud jury today was charged with perjury in an action filed in federal district court by Fred Horowitz, special prosecutor.

Horowitz's charge alleged that Mrs. Clark knew one of the seven defendants in the Foshay trial and that she was employed by the Foshay company as late as July 2, 1929, but did not reveal this when questioned.

In an order signed by Judge Gunnar H. Nordbye, Mrs. Clark was ordered to appear in court Monday to show cause why she should not be adjudged in contempt of court.

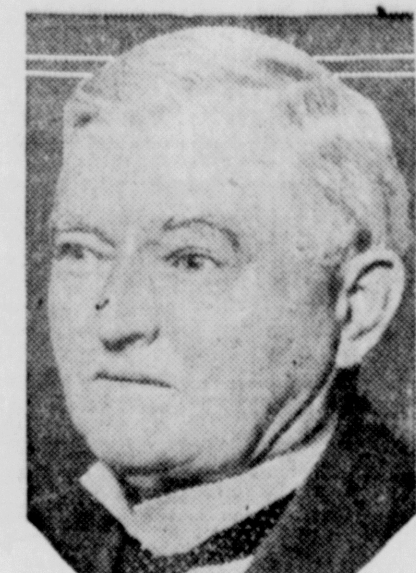

It was reported that Mrs. Clark blocked the Foshay jury, holding out for acquittal when other members of the jury believed Wilbur B. Foshay and six business associates guilty of using the anti-litso defraud in connection with the stock sales of their company.

Thunderous Applause Greet Miss Adams on Stage Return

Cleveland, O., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Maude Adams, whose performance of Peter Pan, Lady Babbie and Leonora years ago made her a tradition of the American stage, emerged from long retirement last night to achieve a personal triumph as Portia in Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice."

With the same exquisite grace that captivated audiences at the close of the last century, Miss Adams stood behind the footlights of the Ohio theater and received the most thunderous applause ever given an artist here. It was her triumphal re-entry to the American stage after an absence of 13 years, and her inauguration to the role of Portia.

Elections Indicate Garner as Speaker

Uvalde, Tex., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Rep. John N. Garner, virtually assured of election to speakership of the house of representatives by democratic victories in yesterday's congressional elections, will leave for Washington soon to complete plans for organization of the session, he said today.

"I could reveal right now who I have in mind for chairmanship of the house committees," he said. "I will leave for Washington within a week or ten days to make further plans."

JACKSON CO. SLICES $57,000 FROM BUDGET IN TAX REDUCTION

RIGID ECONOMIES EFFECTED IN INDIVIDUAL TOWNSHIPS TOTAL $12,000

Jackson, Minn., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Fred B. Fisher, president of the Jackson County Taxpayers' association, today announced that his county has swung in line with others in Minnesota in reducing taxes.

Fisher said Jackson county's taxes had been slashed $45,000 by rigid economies. Reductions in individual townships amounted to $12,000. They were as follows: Alba township, $1,000; Des Moines, $2,000; Heron Lake, $4,000; La Crosse, $1,500; Wimer, $3,000 and Petersburg, $1,000.

The reduction of $57,000 from the Jackson county budget for next year follows similar action by the Fairbault county commissioners at Blue Earth, who cut $45,000 last Monday afternoon at a meeting attended by more than 1,500 farmers.

A mass meeting is scheduled Thursday at Elbow Lake, where reductions in the Grant county budget will be discussed, and another Friday at Litchfield, when Meeker county's expenditures will be scrutinized.

Arrest Two, Summon 10 in Liquor Fixing Probe

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Two men were arrested today and 10 others, including government employees were subpoenaed in an investigation of alleged liquor charge fixing in federal court.

Franklin Wolf and Brem Leven were arrested and among those subpoenaed were R. V. Rensch, assistant U. S. district attorney; Howard S. Abbott, U. S. commissioner; C. N. Hitsman and M. A. Knudson and a St. Paul attorney, Jerome Hoffman.

Wolf and Leven were charged with a "shakedown" of Carl Hendrickson and Charles Samuelson, both of Minneapolis.

BOY EVANGELIST, 5, EXHORTS PRAYERS FOR DELIVERANCE FROM DEPRESSION

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Five year old Arthur McCaffrey, Jr., the "little preacher of the playgrounds," is telling amazed audiences of adults what a sinful world this is.

Although only old enough to be in kindergarten, he has preached in childish treble to large gatherings here and at Mt. Carmel, Ill. Later this week he will deliver an evangelistic sermon at Zion, Ky.

His favorite of 600 Biblical quotations he knows is "Repent for the kingdom of God is at hand." He exhorts listeners to pray and his own prayers reveal how troubled his little boy head is over the economic situation throughout the world.

"He's a dandy preacher but he's a regular fellow besides," say his two most loyal supporters, the six-year-old twins, Junior and June Effinger. They lead in singing "Brighten the Corner Where You Are," and "The Little Brown Church in the Vale," when Arthur conducts services for neighborhood children on some sandlot.

When Arthur prays at the childhood meetings, he never forgets to mention his dog "Pouch" and to refer to the white pony and the two rabbits a neighbor boy owns.

MICHIGAN ELECTS DEMOCRAT FIRST TIME IN 33 YEARS

HART NAMED CONGRESSMAN IN STRIKING INSTANCE OF RE- VERSAL OF SENTIMENT

Eveleth, Minn., Nov. 5.—(U.P.)—By a margin of 10 votes, Victor Essling, former mayor indicted on charges of irregularities in his accounts, defeated

Auburn, N. Y., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Although dead, Charles A. Wright, candidate for county judge, received more than 5,000 votes. Wright died last week.

Frank R. Campbell, incumbent, in yesterday's election. Essling polled 1,610 votes and Campbell 1,600.

Ionia, Mich., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Michael J. Hart, a bean jobber from Saginaw, has been named Michigan's only democratic congressman, and this district's first democratic representative in 33 years.

As an instance of an astonishing reversal of sentiment over a period of a few years, or a few months, the primary vote figure is cited. Republicans cast 34,803 votes then and democrats cast only 4,439.

Complete unofficial returns in yesterday's special election gave Hart, a wet, 25,843 votes to 20,792 for his republican opponent, Foss O. Eldred of Ionia, a majority larger than the total democratic primary vote.

Cleveland, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Ohio divided its congressional honors in yesterday's elections by electing a democrat and a republican to fill vacancies caused by death.

John E. Hollister, Cincinnati lawyer, a wet and a political unknown, was the republican choice to succeed the late Nicholas Longworth. Hollister defeated State Senator David Lorbach, democrat.

Martin L. Sweeney, Cleveland attorney and also a wet, swept to an easy victory over D. Hayden Parry, republican.

Philadelphia, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Edward L. Stokes, republican, was elected United States representative from the second Pennsylvania district to fill the vacancy caused by the death of George S. Graham.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt has emerged victorious in his test of strength with former Governor Alfred E. Smith.

A state reforestation amendment urged by Roosevelt and opposed by Smith in what had been hailed as a significant split between the two leading New York democrats has been carried by an estimated 2-to-1 vote.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Former Governor A. Harry Moore has defeated his republican opponent, David Baird of Garden, by a plurality exceeding 200,000 votes.

Moore's election puts the state back in the democratic column after three years of republican administration under Governor Morgan F. Larson.

She was clad soberly in a black dress with white trimming. Her hair was smoothed back school-girl fashion.

SITUATION IN FAR EAST TENSE

JAPAN TIGHTENING GRIP ON MANCHURIA, CHINESE CHARGE

FURTHER CLAIM THAT PENE- TRATION IN AREA IS CAUS- ING ANXIETY IN MOSCOW

(By United Press)
China charged before the League of Nations today that Japan is steadily extending its grip on Manchuria, and that its penetration of Northern Manchuria, within the Russian "sphere of influence," is causing anxiety in Moscow.

Information given the League that Japanese troops had "occupied" Tsitsihar, important city in Northern Manchuria controlled by both Chinese and Russians, was denied in Tokyo. Japanese forces, however, were in the vicinity, if not within the city. Tokio said the Japanese forces would not advance north of the Nonni, which extends far into Northern Manchuria.

Mukden advices said Chinese troops had fired on a Japanese guard on the Nonni river, near Tsitsihar.

Mukden reported about 80 Chinese killed by Japanese troops near Changtun, north of Mukden.

Geneva, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Aristide Briand, acting president of the League of Nations Council, called again on Japan to withdraw from Manchuria today.

Briand sent a note to Kenkichi Yoshizawa, Japanese delegate, and to all members of the council and the League, declaring that China has already given pledges to Japan and the council covering the five points made by Japan.

The note insisted therefore that Japan fulfill her own pledge in respecting the council's September 30 resolution and withdraw her troops as quickly as the safety of her nationals permits.

Washington, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—The state department's concern over possible entrance of Soviet Russia into the Manchurian controversy was relieved somewhat today by reports from Consul George E. Hanson at Harbin, and by conversations with Ambassador Kijuroi Debuchi of Japan.

Reports yesterday that Japanese troops were moving northward into the Russian sphere of influence, in Manchuria had aroused fears that Russia and Japan might become involved. It appears now to officials here that the Japanese troops are interested only in repairing a bridge over the Nonni river on the Tsitsihar-Tsoman railroad, and has not proceeded north of the Chinese eastern railroad in to the Russian sphere.

Obtains Confession to Murder of N. D. Rancher

South St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Chief of Police Truman Alcorn today announced that he had obtained a confession from a man giving the name of Metro Paladichuk, 20 of the murder of O. M. Sipe, Medora, N. D., rancher, on Oct. 23.

Paladichuk will waive extradition and return with North Dakota authorities who are expected to arrive today to claim him, Alcorn said.

Sipe was killed instantly when struck over the head with a post hole digger while working with another man on the ranch.

Upward Trend in Agricultural Prices Multiplies Favorable Trade Influences

Washington, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Multiplying favorable influences in the business situation created a distinctly optimistic feeling here today.

The upward trend of agricultural prices, notably wheat and cotton, coming in the wake of an improved credit situation, is regarded by officials here as a very encouraging sign.

The pick-up in agricultural prices already has served to stiffen the general level of commodity prices, with increases in some instances which indicates an anticipation of heavier buying in the near future.

The objective of administration policy has been the release of buying power. President Hoover's financial relief program, designed to this end, began to show its effects a few days ago in the checking of hoarding and a decrease in bank failures.

There have been other favorable indications, including in addition to agricultural price increases, a pick-up in retail trade, increased rates on call and time money in the New York stock exchange, a closing of the gap between prices of raw materials and finished products, an increase in carloadings in the past week.

One of the most encouraging aspects is the low state of stocks of all sorts. There has been a long period of "hand-to-mouth" buying; this means that once additional buying power is released, the increase in industrial activity should be marked. Manufacturers will be called on to supply goods to stock nearly empty shelves.

The stabilizing of the commodity price curve will cause wholesalers to buy before prices rise. Something of this sort already is manifest.

WHEAT RALLY SENDS PRICE SOARING TO NEW HIGH SINCE MAY

Postpone Inquest Into Koehring's Death

Mauston, Wis., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Postponement of the coroner's inquest in the death of Phillip A. Koehring, Milwaukee manufacturer, until Nov. 12 to permit his family, insurance companies and Juvenile court officials to continue their investigation, was authorized today by District Attorney Edward Vinopal, Jr.

"Any talk of suicide without any proof to show he ended his own life, or intended to kill himself, or had reason to commit suicide, is ridiculous," Edward Yockey, Milwaukee attorney, said.

CANADA READY TO MAKE PROPOSAL ON ST. LAWRENCE JOB

STIMSON DEEMS IT UNWISE TO ATTEMPT FEDERAL-NEW YORK AGREEMENT

Washington, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Secretary of State Stimson today informed representatives of New York state that he considered it "unnecessary and indeed unwise" to attempt to reach a federal-New York state agreement on development of the St. Lawrence river until "substantial progress had been made toward conclusion of a United States-Canadian" treaty on the subject.

At the same time the secretary promised New York that its claims regarding water power rights on the St. Lawrence would "receive earnest attention." He suggested that the federal government and the New York power authority "should confer in the spirit of mutual cooperation" to clarify and protect their respective claims.

Canadian Minister W. B. Herridge returned here yesterday from Ottawa, where he held conversations with Premier Bennett. Officials here understood Herridge is ready to make a definite proposal.

Projected development of the St. Lawrence would allow large vessels to sail from Great Lakes ports directly to Europe, carrying bulk commodities at low rates. Generation of electric power from the one or two dams necessary to make the river navigable is envisaged also.

CHICAGO PIT ROARS LIKE PRE- DEPRESSION DAYS IN NEW TRADING IMPETUS

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Wheat came to the highest price since last May in a wave of speculative trading in the last few minutes on the Chicago Board of Trade today.

The price soared from 2 1/2 to 3 cents above yesterday's closing figures to Chicago, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Farmers are theoretically $375,000,000 richer because of the booming grain markets, it was estimated by experts today.

The rise of 20 cents a bushel on wheat, it was pointed out, means upward of $60,000,000 more than the crop held by farmers is worth than it was on Oct. 5. Farmers hold practically the entire new corn crop of 2,700,000,000 bushels. Corn has gone up 10 cents a bushel. That means $270,000,000 more in paper wealth.

mark the close of one of the most active trading sessions in the upward movement.

Closing figures were:
December wheat, 64 1/2 cents, 2 1/2 cents higher than Wednesday; March 68 1/2 cents, up 2 1/2 cents; May 69 1/2 cents, up 2 1/2 to 3 cents, and July 70 cents, up 2 1/2 to 3 cents.

Not since Federal Farm board stabilization operations last spring held May when, at a premium of 20 cents above July and forced May to sell at within a fraction of 70 cents had any wheat future been quoted at 70 cents or more.

Sudden resumption of general buying by commission houses and Chicago traders snatched the market out of a continuation of the recession started yesterday and sent the price skyrocketing 3 cents from early lows within a few minutes. The boom lasted until the final gong.

All the rise came within the last 45 minutes of trading. The pit roared like it has not roared since the pre-depression boom days.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Wheat prices rallied 2 1/2 to 3 cents today and closed around 75 cents for both December and May. No. 1 choice durum wheat again reached a dollar on the cash market and was quoted at 91 1/2 to $1.00 1/2.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 5.—(U.P.)—Fair buying of a professional character bolstered the wheat market today on the Winnipeg grain exchange and prices closed nearly two cents higher for the day. Prices were:

Nov. 70 1/2, up 1 1/2.
Dec. 70 1/2, up 2 1/2 to 2.
May 74 1/2 to 74 1/2, up 2 1/2.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—A strong buying interest entered the grain market today after an early wave of profit taking had driven prices sharply downward, and all wheat options closed nearly four cents higher than the lows of the day.

December wheat closed at 57 1/2 cents, up 2 1/2 cents from the previous close. March was up 2 1/2 and May up 2 1/2 cents. The active months in corn closed 2 1/2 cents higher than yesterday in sympathy with the strength in wheat.

MOVE DESIGNED TO SPREAD JOBS TO GREATER NUMBER

IDEA ADVANCED TO STABILIZE EMPLOYMENT AND PREVENT PERIODIC DEPRESSIONS

Washington, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Railway labor may consent to wage reductions in an effort to bargain for a six-hour day, according to opinion which developed today in the impending struggle.

Montreal, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Union Canadian railway employees, numbering 26,000, have refused the demands of the railroads for a 10 per cent cut in wages, and the railroads have applied to the department of labor for a conciliation board to consider the reduction.

gle between carriers and their employees.

See Capital-Labor Clash

Matters are drifting toward a clash between capital and labor on the subject of railroad wages. Already the feeling out process has begun and labor has countered sharply with its proposal for a conference to adjust the differences on a national scale.

The railroad brotherhoods were successful in getting the eight-hour day. With half a million of their workers thrown out of jobs during the depression, the emphasis from the standpoint of labor now is upon methods of stabilizing employment and avoiding periodic returns of hard times. A six-hour day has been advanced as a development which would spread the jobs among a greater number of men.

May Frame 6-Hour Bill

Efforts are being made to frame a six-hour bill for presentation to congress. The labor executives have not agreed upon the exact formula, although the bill probably will propose a basic six-hour day rather than a maximum day of that many hours. The operating times between terminals have been gauged on the eight-hour standard and under the present location of terminals it would not be feasible to limit the working hours to six.

From the viewpoint of labor, the principal thing now is to get the representatives of railroad capital into a conference where these things can be discussed. If the rail executives ignore the brotherhoods' resolution, or refuse—as they have done before—to discuss the stabilization of employment, a critical situation may develop sooner than generally expected.

CONSIDER PLANS TO RELEASE "FROZEN" PROPERTY LIENS

FORMATION OF NATIONAL REAL ESTATE BOARD AND REDIS- COUNT BANK SUGGESTED

Washington, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—President Hoover, determined to formulate some method of releasing a billion and a half dollars now "frozen" in real estate mortgages, largely on small homes, is giving particular consideration to two proposed methods of curing the situation.

The first of the two plans involves formation of a national real estate board, to deal with realty financing. The second embraces formation of a rediscount bank similar to the farm loan banks, which would take the load of mortgages off the holders, lend on them, and thus provide additional credits.

Any method providing additional credits, would permit banks or finance companies holding mortgages to extend the time in which the homeowner must meet his payments.

Whatever method is adopted the principle is much the same. Jones owns a small home, he is in financial difficulties, perhaps out of a job and cannot meet the payments on his mortgage. The bank which holds his mortgages holds many similar mortgages. The bank would like to help Jones and all the other by extending payment, but it cannot afford to do so as it would endanger its credit position. All that is left, in many cases, is a foreclosure and a sale so that something can be realized.

Under the president's program, the bank could take these mortgages, represent igna sound investment, to the rediscount institution, borrow on them and thus get credit. This would permit it to lighten Jones' mortgage either by suspending payment for a time or by requiring only interest charges until he gets back on his feet.

Briand sent a note to Kenkichi Yoshizawa, Japanese delegate, and to all members of the council and the League, declaring that China has already given pledges to Japan and the council covering the five points made by Japan.

The note insisted therefore that Japan fulfill her own pledge in accepting the council's September 30 resolution and withdraw her troops as quickly as the safety of her nationals permits.

Washington, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—The state department's concern over possible entrance of Soviet Russia into the Manchurian controversy was relieved somewhat today by reports from Consul George E. Hanson at Harbin, and by conversations with Ambassador Kitsuji Debuchi of Japan.

Reports yesterday that Japanese troops were moving northward into the Russian sphere of influence in Manchuria had aroused fears that Russia and Japan might become involved. It appears now to officials here that the Japanese troops are interested only in repairing a bridge over the Nonni river on the Tsitsihar-Toanai railroad, and has not proceeded north of the Chinese eastern railroad in to the Russian sphere.

South St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Chief of Police Truman Alcorn today announced that he had obtained a confession from a man giving the name of Metro Paladichuk, 20 of the murder of O. M. Sipe, Medora, N. D., rancher, on Oct. 23.

Paladichuk will waive extradition and return with North Dakota authorities who are expected to arrive today to claim him, Alcorn said.

Sipe was killed instantly when struck over the head with a post hole digger while working with another man on the ranch.

Upward Trend in Agricultural Prices Multiplies Favorable Trade Influences

Washington, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Multiplying favorable influences in the business situation created a distinctly optimistic feeling here today.

The upward trend of agricultural prices, notably wheat and cotton, coming in the wake of an improved credit situation, is regarded by officials here as a very encouraging sign.

The pick-up in agricultural prices already has served to stiffen the general level of commodity prices, with increases in some instances which indicates an anticipation of heavier buying in the near future.

The objective of administration policy has been the release of buying power. President Hoover's financial relief program, designed to this end, began to show its effects a few days ago in the checking of hoarding and a decrease in bank failures.

There have been other favorable indications, including in addition to agricultural price increases, a pick-up in retail trade, increased rates on call and time money in the New York stock exchange, a closing of the gap between prices of raw materials and finished products, an increase in car-loadings in the past week.

One of the most encouraging aspects is the low state of stocks of all sorts. There has been a long period of "hand-to-mouth" buying; this means that once additional buying power is released, the increase in industrial activity should be marked. Manufacturers will be called on to supply goods to stock nearly empty shelves.

The stabilizing of the commodity price curve will cause wholesalers to buy before prices rise. Something of this sort already is manifest.

MOVE DESIGNED TO SPREAD JOBS TO GREATER NUMBER

IDEA ADVANCED TO STABILIZE EMPLOYMENT AND PREVENT PERIODIC DEPRESSIONS

Washington, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Railway labor may consent to wage reductions in an effort to bargain for a six-hour day, according to opinion which developed today in the impending struggle between carriers and their employees.

Montreal, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Union Canadian railway employees, numbering 26,000, have refused the demands of the railroads for a 10 per cent cut in wages, and the railroads have applied to the department of labor for a conciliation board to consider the reduction.

Postpone Inquest Into Koehring's Death

Mauston, Wis., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Postponement of the coroner's inquest in the death of Phillip A. Koehring, Milwaukee manufacturer, until Nov. 12 to permit his family, insurance companies and Juneau county officials to continue their investigation, was authorized today by District Attorney Edward Vinopal, Jr.

"Any talk of suicide without any proof to show he ended his own life, or intended to kill himself, or had reason to commit suicide, is ridiculous," Edward Yockey, Milwaukee attorney, said.

WHEAT RALLY SENDS PRICE SOARING TO NEW HIGH SINCE MAY

CHICAGO PIT ROARS LIKE PRE- DEPRESSION DAYS IN NEW TRADING IMPETUS

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Wheat catapulted to the highest price since last May in a wave of speculative trading in the last few minutes on the Chicago Board of Trade today.

The price soared from 2 1/2 to 3 cents above yesterday's closing figures to 2 7/8 cents.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Farmers are theoretically $375,000,000 richer because of the booming grain markets, it was estimated by experts today.

The rise of 20 cents a bushel on wheat, it was pointed out, means upward of $80,000,000 more than the crop held by farmers is worth than it was on Oct. 5. Farmers hold practically the entire new corn crop of 2,700,000,000 bushels. Corn has gone up 10 cents a bushel. That means $270,000,000 more in paper wealth.

mark the close of one of the most active trading sessions in the upward movement.

Closing figures were:

December wheat, 64 1/2 cents, 2 1/2 cents higher than Wednesday; March 68 1/2 cents, up 2 1/2 cents; May 69 1/2 cents, up 2 1/2 to 3 cents, and July 70 cents, up 2 1/2 to 3 cents.

Not since Federal Farm board stabilization operations last spring held May wheat at a premium of 20 cents above July and forced May to sell at within a fraction of 70 cents had any wheat future been quoted at 70 cents or more.

Sudden resumption of general buying by commission houses and Chicago traders snatched the market out of a continuation of the recession started yesterday and sent the price skyrocketing 3 cents from early lows within a few minutes. The boom lasted until the final gong.

All the rise came within the last 45 minutes of trading. The pit roared like it has not roared since the pre-depression boom days.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Wheat prices rallied 2 1/2 to 3 cents today and closed around 75 cents for both December and May.

No. 1 choice amber durum wheat again reached a dollar on the cash market and was quoted at 91 1/2 to $1.00 1/2.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 5.—(U.P.)—Fair buying of a professional character bolstered the wheat market today on the Winnipeg grain exchange and prices closed nearly two cents higher for the day. Prices were:

Nov. 70 1/2, up 1 1/2.
Dec. 70 1/2, up 2 1/2 to 2.
May 74 1/2 to 74 3/4, up 2 1/4.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—A strong buying interest entered the grain market today after an early wave of profit taking had driven prices sharply downward, and all wheat options closed nearly four cents higher than the lows of the day.

December wheat closed at 57 1/2 cents, up 2 1/2 cents from the previous close. March was up 2 1/2 and May up 2 1/2 cents. The active months in corn closed 2 1/2 cents higher than yesterday in sympathy with the strength in wheat.

CONSIDER PLANS TO RELEASE "FROZEN" PROPERTY LIENS

FORMATION OF NATIONAL REAL ESTATE BOARD AND REDIS- COUNT BANK SUGGESTED

Washington, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—President Hoover, determined to formulate some method of releasing a billion and a half dollars now "frozen" in real estate mortgages, largely on small homes, is giving particular consideration to two proposed methods of curing the situation.

The first of the two plans involves formation of a national real estate board, to deal with realty financing.

The second embraces formation of a rediscout bank similar to the farm loan banks, which would take the load of mortgages off the holders, lend on them, and thus provide additional credits.

Any method providing additional credits, would permit banks or finance companies holding mortgages to extend the time in which the homeowner must meet his payments.

Whatever method is adopted the principle is much the same. Jones owns a small home, he is in financial difficulties, perhaps out of a job and cannot meet the payments on his mortgage. The bank which holds his mortgage holds many similar mortgages. The bank would like to help Jones and all the other by extending payment, but it cannot afford to do so as it would endanger its credit position. All that is left, in many cases, is a foreclosure and a sale so that something can be realized.

Under the president's program, the bank could take these mortgages, represent them sound investment, to the rediscout institution, borrow on them and thus get credit. This would permit it to lighten Jones' mortgage either by suspending payment for a time or by requiring only interest charges until he gets back on his feet.

SPANISH MONARCH FORBIDS MARRIAGE OF DAUGHTER BECAUSE HEREDITARY MALADY

(Copyright, 1931, by United Press)

Paris, Nov. 4.—The engagement of Princess Beatrice, daughter of exiled King Alfonso of Spain, and Prince Alvaro De Bourbon-Orleans has been broken because she is a carrier of a disease which also blasted the romantic dreams of her younger sister, Princess Christine.

Alfonso, the "last of the Bourbons," has forbidden the marriage because of the discovery that both of his daughters are "carriers" of haemophilia, the hereditary scourge which has afflicted the Bourbon line through centuries of power in Europe.

Princess Beatrice, whose wedding date was first set for October and then for December, and her sister are not sufferers from the disease but they could transmit it to their children.

Haemophilia is a condition which makes the blood incapable of coagulation and the afflicted—such as the last Tsarovich of Russia or the Prince of Asturias, eldest son of Alfonso—might easily bleed to death because of a minor cut or bruise which would break the skin.

The plans for the marriage of Princess Beatrice and rumors of the engagement of Princess Christine to Prince Alvaro and his brother, Alonso, had given the royal family's place of exile at Fontainebleau an atmosphere of romance for many weeks. Princess Beatrice was sewing on her wedding clothes and planning to go to Switzerland with her young fiancé to permit him to complete his engineering studies at Zurich after their marriage.

An operation to end danger of transmission of the disease was rejected by the exiled king because of his deep religious scruples.

The princess and her fiancé were desperate and almost all members of the royal family brought pressure to bear on Alfonso in an effort to force him to change his decision. It was said they still held hope that he would relent, but so far he has stood his ground.

Plans by the team from Detroit Lakes which holds the cup for having the best degree team in the state.

A. H. Sturges, Grand Patriarch of Ottumwa, has called a special session of the Grand Encampment to be held at Staples on this date for the purpose of conferring the Grand Encampment degree on Past Chief Patriarchs who have not received the degree. All Grand Encampment officers are expected to be in attendance.

The Rebekah lodge of Staples will serve a dinner at 6:30 o'clock in the evening. This will be followed by a parade, starting at the Odd Fellow hall where the dinner is served, through the streets of Staples to the municipal building where the meeting will be held. R. L. Wahl of Ironton is in charge of the parade and is arranging many entertaining features for it.

E. H. Lundeen, Past Grand Patriarch, of Minneapolis, who is arranging a number of meetings of this kind throughout the state, expects the Staples meeting to be the largest and most successful one to be held.

and his aide, Roy Adney, were seated and boomed out:

"Yesterday you dared us to prove that Horace Jackson committed this murder. We will now prove to you that he is guilty."

Tindall's dramatic announcement created an uproar in the courtroom. Mrs. Simmons, 41-year-old farm wife, is accused of having caused the deaths of her two daughters, Virginia, 14, and Alice Jean, 10, by inserting strychnine capsules into sandwiches the girls ate at a family reunion picnic last June. She is on trial only in connection with Alice Jean's death.

Importation of horsemeat has been forbidden by Czechoslovakia.

WARN TWIN CITIES POLICE TO WATCH FOR BANK ROBBERS

CLARA CITY BANDITS EVADE POSSES AFTER LOOTING BANK OF $7,100

Clara City, Minn., Nov. 4.—(UP)—Four bandits who masqueraded as farmers to rob the Citizens State Bank here today eluded posses which organized to follow them after the robbery. The bandits' loot consisted of approximately $7,100 in cash and several thousand dollars worth of securities, most of which were said to be non-negotiable.

The four were last seen at Renville after the robbery, according to reports received here. Twin City police were warned to be on the lookout for the quartet which dressed in sheepskin coats in a pretense to be farmers.

The robbery was over within three minutes, according to A. M. Stager, cashier, who said he traced the bandits from the moment they entered until they fled out of the building with their pockets stuffed with currency and securities.

Two customers, George Tamen and Clara Veen, both of Clara City, were in the bank when three of the men entered, leaving their companion on guard at the wheel of their automobile.

A contest for members between the Encouragement of Staples and Rushworth Encouragement of Brainerd, in which the losers are to give the winners an oyster supper later in the season, has added much to the interest of the meeting. Both Encouragements have been working hard and will have many candidates for the occasion. The degree work will be

Lagerquist-StickneyNuptials Celebrated

The marriage of Miss Corna M. Stickney and Bernard L. Lagerquist, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Lagerquist, took place Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Charles W. Hoffman, 401 Juniper street.

Tall candelabra, banked ferns and yellow pompon chrysanthemums for a beautiful altar where the marriage vows were spoken.

As the "Love Song" from Faust was being played, the members of the bridal party took their places. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Hoffman, and W. V. Turcotte was best man. Rev. N. P. Olmsted of the First Congregational church read the service in the presence of a group of intimate friends. At the close of the ceremony Mrs. Louis Knudsen played Moszkowski's "Serenata."

The bride's gown was of dark brown velvet with short puff sleeves. Cream lace formed a drop shoulder effect. She wore a corsage of rose buds and gardenias.

The gown of the matron of honor was of brown flat crepe trimmed with cream lace and she wore a corsage of pink roses.

The house was lighted throughout by candles. In the dining room a beautiful bride's cake and centerpiece of Tallisman roses adorned the table. The bride's travelling costume was of brown wool with a tan diagonal stripe, with which she wore a coat of brown with blue fox collar and a hat of brown stitched crepe.

The bride has been employed in the office of W. C. Cobb, city superintendent of school, and has a large circle of friends in this city. The groom is cashier of the First National Bank. Mr. and Mrs. Lagerquist will make their home at 106 Juniper street.

OUR SMALL COLLEGES--

Sometime in the next few years the nation will have to decide more or less finally what it intends to do about its small colleges.

At present there are scores of them—little institutions, in many cases, in which an enrollment of 200 students is usual. Some of these colleges are very fine places, others are distinctly mediocre; nearly all of them are finding it hard to keep above water financially, and unless new support is forthcoming many will have to close their doors.

President Joseph E. Rowe of Clarkson College the other day remarked that the situation of the small college is not unlike that in which the rural church recently found itself.

"A large number of poorly supported churches in any community, in my opinion, will not be so good an influence as a few that are well supported and well attended," he said. "The same argument applies to colleges."

Dr. Rowe points out that in one western state a single church denomination supports five colleges. All are poverty-stricken, and several probably will have to go out of existence in the near future; but if this leads the parent denomination to concentrate its efforts on one or two colleges, it will be far from a calamity.

"The small college movement," he adds, "will produce most desirable results if only it succeeds in diminishing the number of inefficient and low-grade small institutions and replacing them by fewer but better institutions of learning."

This is sound sense. Fewer colleges, and better ones; that, very likely, is what we are coming to. Yet the thinning-out process will be rather hard to watch.

A world of sentiment attaches itself to the small college. It is as typically American as anything in existence. For generations it has given a tone to the life of countless communities. Through its doors have gone thousands upon thousands of earnest, aspiring youngsters from farm and village and city. Some of them emerged really educated, and some of them got only a smattering of education; but all came out a little bit better than they went in, and they have been a profound influence in American life.

Probably we shall do well to cut down the number of our colleges. But as the weak ones die they deserve a parting salute. They have done a great deal for the nation.

THE MEANING OF RICHES--

In Mississippi there is a 75-year-old lady who is suing for a share in New York's $50,000,000 Wendel estate; and the other day, talking about the lawsuit, she remarked plaintively, "I'll wish I was younger if I'm going to get the money."

There is something very human about that remark, and something rather pathetic. To come into great wealth is the buried dream of all of us; but we want it while we still have desires to satisfy and dreams to fulfill and years to waste. To grow suddenly rich at 75 is better, probably, not not to get rich at all, but it is not a great deal better. For youth is not on the market, and when the last flicker of youth has vanished there is not a great deal else that the ordinary person wants to buy.

Indeed, this attitude explains a great deal, when you stop to think about it. It explains why get-rich-quick schemes always have flourished, and always will. It explains why there are always plenty of people to buy lottery tickets, and dream of the lucky stroke of chance that may enrich them. It explains why decent young men occasionally turn into embezzlers and defaulters. It explains why a gold rush will recruit men from all over the world.

An industrious and gifted man can very often make a huge fortune in business. But he can't make it all at once, and that is the whole trouble. For, when we dream about being rich, we don't put it far in the future. We want it now, while we have vigor and long years and bright hopes to squander. The long climb up the ladder, looked at from that angle, sometimes seems impossibly tedious.

And this is true, too, whether one's desires are noble or base. The man to whom a fortune is only a means for gratifying his appetites will quite naturally want the money while he is young; but so, too, will the person who wants money for the leisure it will bring him, for the release that it will mean from petty cares and mean demands, for the doors that it will open to the things of the spirit.

And that, of course, is where life always seems hard and cruel. Unless a man is the especial favorite of the gods, things won't work out as he wishes. We dream of money, which is another way of saying that we dream of complete freedom; but we have to put in long years of service first, and if we can't find our compensations in serving we are out of luck. Riches and youth do not go hand in hand.

IF SPAIN STARTS DIVORCE--

The extent of the change that has come over Spain since the establishment of the republic is strikingly illustrated by the news that the National Assembly has put into the republic's proposed constitution a provision for divorce by mutual consent.

Under the monarchy, Spanish law provided for no divorce at all. The new provision—provided that the law is accepted by the Spanish people—would make divorce almost as easy as it is in Russia. The contrast gives the measure of the change which the nation is undergoing.

Incidentally, if the law stands it may be that Spain will find herself getting a slice of the rich American divorce trade. In recent years the Paris divorce has been popular among rich and restless Americans. Will it, in the near future, be replaced by the Madrid divorce?

OUR AUTOMOBILE BUSINESS--

It is rather surprising to hear that the export trade has accounted for practically all of the increase in production of American autos since 1923. A survey conducted by a University of Michigan expert shows this to be the case, and indicates that the domestic market has not appreciably expanded in eight years.

"Production abroad by American companies," remarks the survey, "will do more to limit our future exports than competition from European producers."

The automobile business, thus, seems to be pretty securely in American hands. Yet one is entitled to wonder just how much this will help the ordinary worker if American factories located overseas are going to grab off most of the export trade. That is a point which the tariff makers might ponder over a little.

"THE FLY!" Mary repeated, horror-stricken. Terror, like a creeping paralysis, began to close in on her faculties. But she hesitated only the fraction of a minute. The footsteps were coming nearer. She began to talk in hushed, conversational tones:

"—Bermuda, I think, though it's hardly the season, but Europe takes too long, and besides," she shrugged lightly, "it's frightful to be bride and groom on one of those transatlantic boats, you couldn't be more conspicuous honeymooning at the Ritz. The orchestra plays at you and they put you at the captain's table and turn spotlights on you and otherwise make you wish you'd died before you were born—"

She continued talking as the man brushed by their table and was hidden from sight by the angle of the wall. Only then did she let her eyes stray from her companion's, and then they were cool and inquisitive.

Bowen clapped his hands silently, and made her a small bow.

"Sweet!" he chuckled. "Go to the head of the class, Gloria Swanson!"

Mary was dumfounded. She leaned out and looked after the man who had passed, and saw the large bulk of Jack Shay moving majestically toward the front of the room. She sank back, weak with reaction.

"You fooled me!" she accused furiously. "Why?"

Bowen was instantly grave.

"Because this is serious business we're undertaking and I had to know how you'd act in a pinch. You were perfect."

"Was I?" She was slightly mollified by his praise.

"You were. Now let's get down to business. Here's what I'd suggest—"

Shay, returning past their table, gave Mary a long look and said, "Hello!" He put his hands on the table between them, looked from one to the other searchingly. "I see your little shake-up this afternoon didn't bother you!"

"Oh, not in the least!" Mary gave him her most winning smile.

"Jack, do you know Miss Harkness?" Bowen said.

"Sure, we got acquainted this afternoon."

"You were very kind. I want to thank you," Mary told him. "Have you heard how the taxi driver is?"

"He's all right. He was around here again, drivin' a new cab already. Must've been insured."

When he had wadded off, Mary whispered, "Was it wise to tell him my name? Won't he tell them—in there?" nodding toward the private dining room.

"Maybe. But he'd be mighty suspicious if I held out on him. He's not sure about that crack-up yet. I'd have met you somewhere else if I'd known about that. Oh, well—what the heck—"

Just then Mary saw Dirk coming toward them between the tables.

He was in dinner jacket, a light topcoat over his arm. Her heart turned over and began to race madly at sight of him. He was so different, so distinguished-looking, that she felt that there was something about him that she had never seen before.

about the dark, lean face she loved so well. But he was also absurdly, stiffly proud. Mary could see that he was angry, even before he saw them. And when his eyes found them, in their darkish corner, a flash of displeasure crossed his face.

Mary had forgotten about the black dinner dress; she did not realize how delectable she looked in it, or how intimately tete-a-tete and festive they appeared to the casual eye. Until that minute she had not felt herself blameworthy in the least, but immediately a dozen reasons for his displeasure occurred to her. She was flushed and awkwardly conscious of having offended him, when he reached her side.

He spoke brusquely to Bowen, avoiding her eyes.

"Ready to go?" he said, without sitting down.

"Oh, not yet. Can't you sit down a moment? There's so much to tell you—"

He drew up a chair. "All right, let's hear it," he said, without changing expression.

Mary puckered her brow. "You're angry about something. Didn't you get my message?"

"No, I didn't get your message. They told me at the house you'd gone, but no one knew where. Spence happened to find this slip of paper beside the telephone, so I took a chance and came here."

He laid on the table the slip on which the address of Shay's was written.

"But I called up your office and told the bookkeeper to tell you where I was! He said you'd be back. I thought you could call for me, and you were going to be late, so I thought I'd—come to meet you, sort of."

She stumbled over it, surprised how lame it sounded.

"I didn't go back. Dropped everything and went home, thinking we might go out somewhere and party around a while."

"Oh, I'm so sorry!"

"It's all right!" But he did not unbend. Had she really been thoughtless, or was he absurdly childish? She was too much in love to arrive at the right answer at once.

"That's why I dressed up," she said, indicating the black dress. "I thought we might, too."

"Well," he said, "shall we go?" Beyond his curt greeting he had not given Bowen a second glance. Mary flushed with embarrassment.

"You're not being quite—polite, are you?" she said sharply. "Mr. Bowen has some information you ought to hear, if you've time to listen."

HE turned a politely attentive face toward the newspaperman, who slowly dragged himself up to an erect position in his chair,

"The murderer of Mrs. Jupiter and of Miss Harkness' brother is in that room," he said quietly, and nodded toward the closed door.

Dirk's expression was interested but incredulous. "And who is that?"

"A man they call the Fly."

"What makes you think he did it?"

"I'll go over the matter with you step by step, whenever you have the time to give to it," Bowen answered.

"What do you plan to do?"

"We're just talking that over."

"If you've got anything on this man, the next step is a warrant. Isn't it? Why don't you have him arrested?" His voice was quiet and courteous; only the odd look in his eyes betrayed the animosity that inexplicably flared up between the two men.

"No," Bowen said firmly. "I've thought that all out, and it's wrong. I know something about law, too—the kind we get in police court, anyhow. It's too big a chance to take. This man has a record of slipping out of one legal knot after another. He'd have been hung 10 years ago when they sent him up the river, if he hadn't had a smart lawyer. If we can't make a case, and he goes free, we're through. We'd have to take it and like it. And I couldn't do it. It's—It's personal with me!"

He had grown pale and his breath came hard. Savage hate gleamed for an instant in his narrowed eyes.

"That man came within an inch of killing me!" he went on in a low voice, his face set with emotion. "He did kill Miss Harkness' brother. I think he killed the woman, too, but that much I saw. He ran that kid down, and he did it because he damn well meant to! By George, I—I can't let that go!"

There was a mist of tears in his eyes; he was too choked to speak. Mary was tremendously moved. She had never known a man to cry before. She had not dreamed he felt so deeply about it. By staring at her clasped hands intently she managed to wink away the tears that sprang into her own eyes.

She lifted pleading eyes to Dirk. Surely now, once and for all, he would see that his suspicions about Bowen were unfounded. Whatever else he might be, he was sincere in this, at least.

Dirk looked as if he were about to speak, but stopped. He turned and looked at the closed door of the private dining room.

"It would be suicide to go in there," Bowen warned him gently. "Thoughtfully, Dirk turned and he and Bowen looked glances for a minute. Then he reached into a pocket of his dinner jacket and drew out a long suede pouch which he transferred to a pocket of the topcoat which lay across the table in front of him. He laid his hand on it significantly.

"Don't let anything happen to that," he said and got up.

Before Mary could stop him, he was walking casually toward the back of the room. She cried out, and half rose from her chair, but Bowen's viselike grip on her arm held her down.

"Sit down!" he ordered. "He's all right."

THERE were two doors on the small corridor which ran along beside the walled-off kitchen. The first was the door into the private dining room. The second, farther back, was the men's washroom. Dirk turned the knob and walked into the first, then backed out as suddenly as he had entered. He

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

There is a variety of ways in which stale bread can be turned from a liability to an asset in the kitchen. In fact, many made dishes depend on stale bread crumbs for their consistency. Many delectable and nourishing puddings and desserts are made with crumbs or slices of bread. They are an important part of scalloped dishes and stuffings for poultry.

"Stale" bread crumbs and "dried" crumbs are quite different and can seldom be used as substitutes for each other. Dried crumbs are indispensable for crumbing croquettes and breading cutlets. Bread that was not used in the stale stage for pudding or French toast or any other purpose should be thoroughly dried in the oven and rolled or put through the food chopper for crumbing purposes.

Keep in mind that buttered toast crumbs should not be mixed and stored with dried bread crumbs. The butter on the toast soon becomes strong and taints the entire quantity of the crumbs. Crisp toast can, of course, be made into fine crumbs for use within a few days but the average half-inch slice of toast can be cut into cubes and used almost interchangeably with plain stale bread.

An easy way to make croutons for soup is to cut left-over toast in cubes and crisp them in a moderate oven. Proper croutons are made of stale bread cut in half-inch cubes and fried in deep fat until a golden brown. A nourishing and quickly prepared luncheon dish uses slices of stale bread to advantage.

OUR SMALL COLLEGES--

Sometime in the next few years the nation will have to decide more or less finally what it intends to do about its small colleges.

At present there are scores of them—little institutions, in many cases, in which an enrollment of 200 students is usual. Some of these colleges are very fine places, others are distinctly mediocre; nearly all of them are finding it hard to keep above water financially, and unless new support is forthcoming many will have to close their doors.

President Joseph E. Rowe of Clarkson College the other day remarked that the situation of the small college is not unlike that in which the rural church recently found itself.

"A large number of poorly supported churches in any community, in my opinion, will not be so good an influence as a few that are well supported and well attended," he said. "The same argument applies to colleges."

Dr. Rowe points out that in one western state a single church denomination supports five colleges. All are poverty-stricken, and several probably will have to go out of existence in the near future; but if this leads the parent denomination to concentrate its efforts on one or two colleges, it will be far from a calamity.

"The small college movement," he adds, "will produce most desirable results if only it succeeds in diminishing the number of inefficient and low-grade small institutions and replacing them by fewer but better institutions of learning."

This is sound sense. Fewer colleges, and better ones; that, very likely, is what we are coming to. Yet the thinning-out process will be rather hard to watch.

A world of sentiment attaches itself to the small college. It is as typically American as anything in existence. For generations it has given a tone to the life of countless communities. Through its doors have gone thousands upon thousands of earnest, aspiring youngsters from farm and village and city. Some of them emerged really educated, and some of them got only a smattering of education; but all came out a little bit better than they went in, and they have been a profound influence in American life.

Probably we shall do well to cut down the number of our colleges. But as the weak ones die they deserve a parting salute. They have done a great deal for the nation.

THE MEANING OF RICHES--

In Mississippi there is a 75-year-old lady who is suing for a share in New York's $50,000,000 Wendel estate; and the other day, talking about the lawsuit, she remarked plaintively, "I'll wish I was younger if I'm going to get the money."

There is something very human about that remark, and something rather pathetic. To come into great wealth is the buried dream of all of us; but we want it while we still have desires to satisfy and dreams to fulfill and years to waste. To grow suddenly rich at 75 is better, probably, not not to get rich at all, but it is not a great deal better. For youth is not on the market, and when the last flicker of youth has vanished there is not a great deal else that the ordinary person wants to buy.

Indeed, this attitude explains a great deal, when you stop to think about it. It explains why get-rich-quick schemes always have flourished, and always will. It explains why there are always plenty of people to buy lottery tickets, and dream of the lucky stroke of chance that may enrich them. It explains why decent young men occasionally turn into embezzlers and defaulters. It explains why a gold rush will recruit men from all over the world.

An industrious and gifted man can very often make a huge fortune in business. But he can't make it all at once, and that is the whole trouble. For, when we dream about being rich, we don't put it far in the future. We want it now, while we have vigor and long years and bright hopes to squander. The long climb up the ladder, looked at from that angle, sometimes seems impossibly tedious.

And this is true, too, whether one's desires are noble or base. The man to whom a fortune is only a means for gratifying his appetites will quite naturally want the money while he is young; but so, too, will the person who wants money for the leisure it will bring him, for the release that it will mean from petty cares and mean demands, for the doors that it will open to the things of the spirit.

And that, of course, is where life always seems hard and cruel. Unless a man is the especial favorite of the gods, things won't work out as he wishes. We dream of money, which is another way of saying that we dream of complete freedom; but we have to put in long years of service first, and if we can't find our compensations in serving we are out of luck. Riches and youth do not go hand in hand.

IF SPAIN STARTS DIVORCE--

The extent of the change that has come over Spain since the establishment of the republic is strikingly illustrated by the news that the National Assembly has put into the republic's proposed constitution a provision for divorce by mutual consent.

Under the monarchy, Spanish law provided for no divorce at all. The new provision—provided that the law is accepted by the Spanish people—would make divorce almost as easy as it is in Russia. The contrast gives the measure of the change which the nation is undergoing.

Incidentally, if the law stands it may be that Spain will find herself getting a slice of the rich American divorce trade. In recent years the Paris divorce has been popular among rich and restless Americans. Will it, in the near future, be replaced by the Madrid divorce?

OUR AUTOMOBILE BUSINESS--

It is rather surprising to hear that the export trade has accounted for practically all of the increase in production of American autos since 1923. A survey conducted by a University of Michigan expert shows this to be the case, and indicates that the domestic market has not appreciably expanded in eight years.

"Production abroad by American companies," remarks the survey, "will do more to limit our future exports than competition from European producers."

The automobile business, thus, seems to be pretty securely in American hands. Yet one is entitled to wonder just how much this will help the ordinary worker if American factories located overseas are going to grab off most of the export trade. That is a point which the tariff makers might ponder over a little.

Little MARY JUPITER is robbed and murdered during the engagement party she gives her secretary, MARY HARKNESS. Mary's scoundrel brother, EDDIE, may have been in the house at the murder hour and has disappeared. The thief failed to get the famous Jupiter rubies.

Eddie is run down and killed as he goes to meet Mary. INSPECTOR KAYE drops the case believing Eddie the murderer. MR. JUPITER and DIRK believe the same.

BOWEN of the Star discovers a racketeer gambler and crook called THE FLY, to whom Eddie owed money. Bowen gives Mary a cent he found in the Jupiter house the night of the murder. It is her brother's. The butler recognizes it as having been worn by a "gate-crasher" he ejected that night.

Dirk forbids Mary to go on with the investigation because of the dangers. They quarrel, make up and Mary promises to marry him at once. While shopping, Mary's taxi crashes into a speakeasy. She later meets Bowen here for dinner and they learn The Fly is hiding on the premises.

Bowen has a plan for Mary to trap The Fly, using the ruby necklace as bait. The Fly is in disgrace among crooks for having failed to get the necklace. Bowen believes he will try again. Suddenly the reporter tells Mary The Fly is approaching.

Dinner: Veal timbales with tomato sauce, creamed turnips, green pepper and pear salad, brown Betty, milk, coffee.

moderate oven until the cheese is melted and the top is brown. Serve from baking dish.
The bread puddings are almost legion and range from the simplest affair for children to a rich and plumy concoction for gala days. The following chocolate bread pudding is suitable for the average meal.

Chocolate Bread Pudding
One and one-fourth cups stale bread crumbs, 2 cups scalded milk, 1-2 cup sugar, 1 square bitter chocolate 1 egg.

Keep in mind that buttered toast crumbs should not be mixed and stored with dried bread crumbs. The butter on the toast soon becomes strong and taints the entire quantity of the crumbs. Crisp toast can, of course, be made into fine crumbs for use within a few days but the average half-inch slice of toast can be cut into cubes and used almost interchangeably with plain stale bread.

An easy way to make croquettes for soup is to cut left-over toast in cubes and crisp them in a moderate oven. Proper croquettes are made of stale bread cut in half-inch cubes and fried in deep fat until a golden brown. A nourishing and quickly prepared luncheon dish uses slices of stale bread to advantage.

Luncheon Dish
Butter thin slices of stale bread and line a baking dish with the buttered side toward the dish. Sprinkle with grated or finely chopped cheese and season lightly with salt, paprika and a dash of mustard. Add another layer of bread, sprinkle with cheese and seasoning. Pour over one or two eggs slightly beaten with 1 cup of milk. Cover with a layer of bread, buttered side up. Let stand until the bread absorbs the milk. If bread is not soft, carefully pour a little more milk in at the side of the dish. Bake in a

LOCAL BANK OFFERS SHARE IN SETTING UP NAT'L CREDIT POOL

The First National Bank of Brainerd and the associated banks of the First Bank Stock Corporation group are participating in the setting up of the machinery of the National Credit Corporation by subscriptions to their proportionate amount of the initial offering of debentures. G. D. LaBar, president, said today. Nationally, the corporation plans to raise a billion dollars through such subscriptions which will constitute a fund to be held in readiness to put subscribing banks in a position to meet any emergency that might arise. The further purpose is for the banks of the country to contribute to the stabilization of financial and economic conditions by utilizing their own resources.

The fund will be administered through a number of national credit associations, organized within federal reserve district boundaries.

Leading bankers of the Northwest will administer the affairs of the district association. C. T. Jaffray, chairman of the board of the First Bank Stock Corporation, is chairman, and Lyman E. Wakefield, president of the First National Bank in Minneapolis, is vice-chairman. E. W. Decker, president of the Northwestern National Bank and the Northwest Bancorporation, is the member of the board of directors of the National Credit Corporation representing the Ninth District.

"The First Bank Stock Corporation and associated banks are doing everything possible to bring this agency into successful operation," Mr. LaBar said. "Since proposed by President Hoover, it already appears to have had a marked stabilizing effect and has contributed to a definite restoration of confidence."

FRESH

in nature's way

CAMELS are never parched or toasted!

FRESHNESS and flavor in a cigarette trace right back to natural moisture.

If you overheat or process tobacco so harshly as to dry out all natural moisture you drive out freshness and flavor too.

Camel never parches or toasts the fine Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos it uses—they are naturally smooth, cool, mellow, with natural moisture retained.

That's why the Camel Humidor Pack proves such a blessing to Camel smokers—it brings them a fine cigarette fresh to start with, and fresh to smoke.

If you don't realize what natural moisture means in genuine freshness and flavor, switch to Camels and see.

Try this mild, slow-burning, throat-friendly favorite for just one day—then leave it, if you can!

MUNN TO TOTE BALL; WILDCATS' INJURED STARS RETURN

RUSSELL, RENTNER, WELDIN TO BE READY FOR GOPHER BATTLE

MINNESOTA HAS FIVE BALL CARRIERS AS CRISLER PULLS MUNN TO BACK CORDON

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Capt. Clarence Yunn, Minnesota's 200-pound guard who scored a touchdown against Wisconsin last week, will be used to carry the ball again against Northwestern Saturday giving the Gophers five ball carriers.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Stanley Hamberg, Chicago's veteran guard who was thought to be out for the season with an injured shoulder may return to the Maroons' lineup against Illinois November 14.

Evanston, Ill., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Fullback Reb Russell, Halfback Pug Hertner and Center Harold Weldin, Northwestern's three injured players, will all play against Minnesota Saturday. Ole Olson probably will start at fullback, with Russell relieving him. Rentner will wear a specially constructed cast to protect his broken thumb.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Wisconsin's backfield for the Illinois game probably will be made up of Linfor, Nelson, Strain and Schneller, with Gildenberg and Schiller both not likely to play because of injuries.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Coach Bob Zuppke's young sophomore squad at Illinois was given another shakeup today, with the chief hunt "on" for guards and a ground gaining fullback. Straw and Wilson, both former backs, were tried at guard. May and Hester, guards, were tried at fullback.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Coach Harty Anderson today warned the Notre Dame team against overconfidence regarding Saturday's game with the undefeated Pennsylvania team. "Penn was too easy for us last year," said Anderson, "but they are a lot stronger this year. We will have to be at top form to take them."

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Defensive drills for Centenary's new open formations occupied the attention of the Purdue squad yesterday. "We will be lucky not to lose by two points," said Coach Noble Kizer, "unless our offense can pep up and match the scoring strength of Centenary."

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Vic Damer, veteran quarterback, may have to take over Indiana's passing assignment against Michigan this week, with Sabik nursing injuries which may keep him out of most of the game. The Hoosiers are counting on their new pass attack to give the Wolverines a scare.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—The formidable showing of the Michigan reserves in practice this week may cause Coach Harry Kipke to employ them against Indiana Saturday in an effort to wear down the Hoosiers before the main game. Harry Kipke, halfback, stood out in yesterday's drill.

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Coach Harty Anderson is counting on improved blocking to give Iowa a better offensive against Nebraska Saturday. "We are in other games played this far," said Anderson, "Capt. Sanson Lays, and Anderson all blocked well in yesterday's workout."

Columbus, O., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Secret football practice will be held the rest of the week by the Ohio State squad in preparation for Saturday's game with Navy. All of the Buckeyes players are in good physical condition except Lew Hinchman, halfback.

Grigger Engaged

Boy Hudson fullback and captain of the University of Michigan football team, stopped an off-tackle slant from Cupid's bow the other day. Announcement of the Wolverine captain's engagement to Miss Mary Niffenegger was made by the girl's parents at South Haven, Mich. Hudson hails from Girard, O. The Michigan grigger and his fiancée are shown above.

Navy Back Regains Favorite Headgear

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—"Bulldog" Lou Kirm, Navy offensive ace, has his favorite headgear again and is ready for Saturday's game with Ohio State.

The headgear was the object of a frantic search earlier in the week. Kirm had worn it in every game since entering the Naval academy and regarded it as a lucky charm.

His worries were relieved yesterday when the headgear—so badly worn that a thoughtful equipment manager at West Virginia Wesleyan wrapped it in tissue paper and marked the package "fragile"—was returned by mail with the explanation that it had been mixed up in the Virginia equipment last week and carried away.

N. Y. U. Faces Tough Assignment in Georgia

New York, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Coach Chick Meehan and his New York university Violets face a difficult task Saturday in their attempt to uphold eastern football prestige against the attack of the University of Georgia.

Unless N. Y. U. can turn in a victory—and stopping Georgia's march to the national championship appears to be a task beyond the Violets' capabilities—the east will be forced to admit that football as played in other sections is superior.

Georgia, undefeated to date with victories over V. P. I., Yale, North Carolina, Vanderbilt and Florida, has been established as an 8 to 5 favorite.

No Bids Received for State Highway Bonds

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 3.—(U.P.)—For the first time in the history of the state no bids were received today when the time for opening bids for $1,400,000 of highway bonds came.

The bonds were to have been sold to provide money for refunding to Hennepin county for work on trunk highways as well as for the general highway fund.

General demoralization of the bond market was blamed. Minnesota fared no worse than other states, bond men said. Local firms offered to try to sell part of the issue if the state would purchase the remainder with trust fund money.

State Treasurer Julius Schmahel announced he would seek a meeting of the state investment board to act on the proposal.

HOOVER, MANAGER CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM TO ATTEND REUNION

CHAMPIONSHIP STANFORD TEAM OF YEARS AGO TO GATHER AT "TRAINING TABLE" NOV. 12

Washington, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—A championship Leland Stanford university football team will gather around the "training table" with its business manager of those days here next week.

The business manager was a chunky youth named "Bert" Hoover. The repeat will be an elaborate banquet in the state dining room of the White House Nov. 12.

The surviving members of that all star team of 1894—bankers, lawyers, doctors, all of them prominent—will gather from London, Honolulu, and scattered parts of this country.

One of the members of the team is Jackson Reynolds, president of the First National Bank of New York. He was the halfback who dashed through the University of Chicago team to give Stanford a 12 to 0 victory in the first East-West intercollegiate game.

The captain of the team, Paul Downing, now is vice president of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company. Abraham Lewis is a millionaire banker in Honolulu and William Harrelson is vice president of the Bank of Italy in San Francisco.

Others who played on the team are: Alfred Spalding, professor of medicine at Stanford; Guy Cochran, prominent Los Angeles surgeon; Will Campbell, superior court judge in Washington State; Charles Fickert, who as San Francisco district attorney, in 1916 secured the conviction of Thos. Mooney; Joel Field, Texas rancher; Will Hazard, Idaho lawyer; Thomas Code, San Francisco grain broker; Charles Dols, attorney in Honolulu; Jule Frankenswimer, San Francisco physician; Herbert Kennedy, counsel for the Commerce Department in London; Herbert Hicks, a state senator in Illinois.

Reynolds cracked the maples for a 247 high single count.

Report Diamond Theft Totaling $200,000

Chicago, Nov. 3.—(U.P.)—Joseph C. Newman, representative of the F. I. Von Wezel diamond house, New York, reported to police that three robbers kidnapped him and a friend from a Loop street corner today and robbed them of uncut diamonds valued at $200,000.

Newman and his friend, whose name was not known to the police, said they had left the Congress Hotel and walked to Congress and Wabash streets when a small automobile drove alongside. Two men jumped out and forced the motorist to the car, which was driven by a third man.

The Wisconsin Athletic commission will consider Holly's case at its next regular meeting in Milwaukee.

ATTENDANCE AT FOOTBALL GAMES SHOWS SHORT LEFT HOOK DRIVES FIRPO TO CANVAS IN SECOND

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—There was a gradual decline in attendance at football games played during October by Big Ten teams and Notre Dame in comparison to petnange for the same month in 1930, statistics compiled by the United Press revealed today.

On the whole Big Ten attendance showed a slump, but the leading teams, Northwestern, Minnesota, Michigan, and Ohio State, individually proved virtually as good drawing cards as in previous years.

Northwestern, favorite for the Big Ten title, and Notre Dame, perhaps the two strongest mid-west teams drew a larger total for their first five games this year than they did a year ago.

Notre Dame, playing three of the same teams it met a year ago, has attracted an aggregate attendance thus far of 157,000 in comparison to 172,000 for its first five games in 1930. Northwestern has played to 221,000 persons in five games this season as compared to 204,879 for a similar number in 1930.

Some of the Big Ten schools have slashed the prices of tickets behind the goal posts, a wise move regardless of other conditions. There has never been any logic to charging $4 for a seat on the 50-yard line and the same price for one behind the goal posts.

Purdue has set a new low for Big Ten football tickets by reducing the price of seats behind the goal posts to 50 cents for Saturday's game with Centenary at Lafayette.

Most of the leading Big Ten games this season have drawn as well as last year, with the exception of games played by Illinois, represented by one of its weakest teams in history. At this time last year two games, the Michigan-Ohio State and Michigan-Illinois games, each had attracted crowds of 70,000. The Michigan-Ohio State game again drew a 70,000 crowd this year, but the attendance at the Michigan-Illinois game, usually a standout in this region, dwindled away to 35,000.

A comparison of the biggest crowds up to this time at Big Ten games the past two years follows:

1930—Michigan-Ohio State, 70,000; Michigan-Illinois, 70,000; Purdue-Michigan, 45,000; Northwestern-Ohio State, 40,000; Wisconsin-Purdue, 35,000; Michigan-Illinois, 35,000.

1931—Michigan-Ohio State, 70,000; Minnesota-Wisconsin, 50,000; Northwestern-Ohio State, 41,000; Wisconsin-Purdue, 35,000; Michigan-Illinois, 35,000.

Wangley landed the first decisive blow of the fight in the second round, a right cross and followed it with a short left hook of tremendous power that stretched Firpo on the canvas.

The best bout of the evening brought together Jack Sharkey, Minneapolis, 124½, and Wilbur Chevalier, Milwaukee, 125, for eight rounds. Sharkey looked like a winner at the close of the sixth round with two clear rounds margin. Chevalier, however, dipped into his stamina and slugged his way to a draw in the last two sessions.

Johnny Early, Minneapolis, 132½, defeated Bert Duchene, Minneapolis, 129, in four rounds.

Ace of Spades, Wolf Point, Mont., 158½, defeated Dave Lasky, Minneapolis, 155, in four rounds.

Harold Segal, Minneapolis, 125, shaded Lou Gans, Minneapolis, 124, in four rounds. Bob Cannifax, Fort Snelling, 186, outpointed Johnny Baker, Minneapolis, 183, in four rounds. Pat Arnold, Minneapolis, knocked out Young McLean, Minneapolis, one round. Young Norman defeated Johnny Kiboy in four rounds.

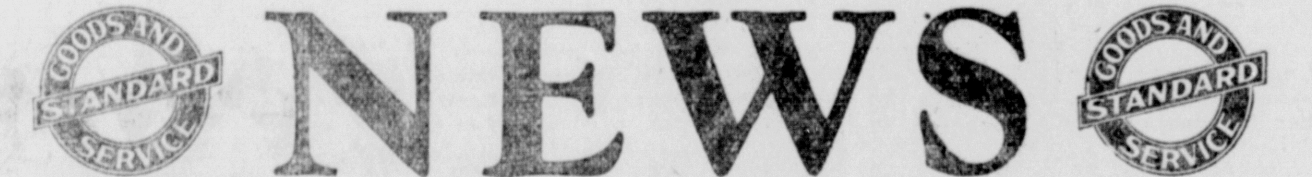

Los Angeles, Nov. 4.—(U.P.)—Kid Francis, New York, 122½, and Varies Milling, Manila, 124½, drew (10).

After some discussion, Konigswinter won the honor of being the birthplace.

It's Heat That You're After When You Buy Coal

CUT YOUR FUEL COSTS AND GET MORE HEAT

After all, to get a supply of coal is a very easy and simple matter. "Oh, this or that kind will do," one may say. And, in an hour or two, there it is!

But there are other people who use more care in ordering coal, and thus reap a good deal more profit and comfort from it. They figure rightly that it isn't coal but HEAT they want to buy, and so they find out about the heating qualities of different fuels. Next, they naturally want the most heat they can get for each dollar—and so they buy coal for its heat value, not its price. And each year more and more people demand fuel which gives them greater convenience and cleanliness. A coal that leaves only pure ashes to take care of, one that gives heat without constant attention. A coal that does not make the house dusty and dirty all winter long. Any housewife will appreciate a dust-free, clean burning coal.

Now you can get all these necessary qualities in a single fuel: more heat, more comfort, more cleanliness per dollar, when you buy STANDARD COAL.

Buying The Right Kind Of Coal Saves You Money

Invest in true heat comfort this year. Get your money's worth. Buy for HEAT VALUE, not for price. By all standards of measurement STANDARD COAL is more economical, because its high quality makes it almost 100% pure combustible. There is practically no waste in the coal—and no waste while using it, because a touch of the drafts controls your fire for mild or sub-zero winter days.

Standard Coal... Gives Quick Heat Easy To Regulate

STANDARD COAL is the ideal fuel for home use. It leaves less than a bushel of ash to the ton, contains no rock, slate or other visible impurities, and it is easy to regulate for quick, hot fire or for slow, steady heat. Thus it requires less STANDARD COAL to keep your home comfortably heated at all times, and is sure to reduce your heating costs. You have merely to tend your furnace morning and evening to enjoy comfortable heat all year. Think of that for convenience.

Don't Pay For Impurities... BUY HEAT

No rock, no slate, no bone coal—and less than a bushel of ash to the ton—that's the kind of purity which makes STANDARD COAL, the ideal, economical home fuel. Every dollar you spend for it comes back to you in steady, comfortable, healthful heat! Pay for HEAT this year—nothing else! Buy STANDARD COAL this year—nothing else!

Stop Heat Leaks With Insulation

"It Tucks In"—that's the distinctive quality to remember about BALSAM-WOOL. Just as you would tuck yourself in to keep warm, so you "tuck your house in" with BALSAM-WOOL. This wonderful insulator keeps the heat "in" during Winter and "out" during Summer. Pays for itself quickly in savings on fuel. You can insulate an old house as well as a new one—and pay for it on time payments! Without cost or obligation, we will estimate the cost for you.

MUNN TO TOTE BALL; WILDCATS' INJURED STARS RETURN

RUSSELL, RENTNER, WELDIN TO BE READY FOR GOPHER BATTLE

MINNESOTA HAS FIVE BALL CARRIERS AS CRISLER PULLS MUNN TO BACK CORDON

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 4.—(UP)—Capt. Clarence Munn, Minnesota's 200-pound guard who scored a touchdown against Wisconsin last week, will be used to carry the ball again against Northwestern Saturday giving the Gophers five ball carriers.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—(UP)—Stanley Hamberg, Chicago's veteran guard who was thought to be out for the season with an injured shoulder may return to the Maroons' lineup against Illinois November 14.

Evanston, Ill., Nov. 4.—(UP)—Fullback Reb Russell, Halfback Pug Rentner and Center Harold Weldin, Northwestern's three injured players, will all play against Minnesota Saturday. Olie Olson probably will start at fullback, with Russell relieving him. Rentner will wear a specially constructed cast to protect his broken thumb.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 4.—(UP)—Wisconsin's backfield for the Illinois game probably will be made up of Linfor Nelson, Strain and Schneller, with Gildenberg and Schiller both not likely to play because of injuries.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 4.—(UP)—Coach Bob Zuppke's young sophomore squad at Illinois was given another shakeup today, with the chief hunt "on" for guards and a ground gaining fullback. Straw and Wilson, both former backs, were tried at guard. May and Hester, guards, were tried at fullback.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 4.—(UP)—Coach Hearty Anderson today warned the Notre Dame team against overconfidence regarding Saturday's game with the undefeated Pennsylvania team. "Penn was too easy for us last year," said Anderson, "but they are a lot stronger this year. We will have to be at top form to take them."

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 4.—(UP)—Defensive drills for Centenary's wide open formations occupied the attention of the Purdue squad yesterday. "We will be lucky not to lose by two touchdowns," said Coach Noble Kizer, "unless our offense can pep up and match the scoring strength of Centenary."

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 4.—(UP)—Vic Danner, veteran quarterback, may have to take over Indiana's passing assignment against Michigan this week, with Sabik nursing injuries which may keep him out of most of the game. The Hoosiers are counting on their new nose attack to give the Wolverines a scare.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 4.—(UP)—The formidable showing of the Michigan reserves in practice this week may cause Coach Harry Kipke to employ them against Indiana Saturday in an effort to wear down the Hoogers before sending in the varsity. Harry Kipke, halfback, stood out in yesterday's drill.

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 4.—(UP)—Coach Burt Ingwersen is counting on improved blocking to give Iowa a better offensive against Nebraska Saturday. Men in other games played thus far this season. Capt. Hansen Laws, and Dickman all blocked well in yesterday's workout.

Columbus, O., Nov. 4.—(UP)—Secret football practice will be held the rest of the week by the Ohio State squad in preparation for Saturday's game with Navy. All of the Buckeyes players are in good physical condition except Lew Hinchman, halfback.

Griddler Engaged

Roy Hudson fullback and captain of the University of Michigan football team, stopped an off-tackle slant from Cupid's bow the other day. Announcement of the Wolverine captain's engagement to Miss Mary Niffenegger was made by the girl's parents at South Haven, Mich. Hudson hails from Girard, O. The Michigan griddler and his fiancée are shown above.

Navy Back Regains Favorite Headgear

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 4.—(UP)—"Bullet" Lou Kirm, Navy offensive ace, has his favorite headgear again and is ready for Saturday's game with Ohio State.

The headgear was the object of a frantic search earlier in the week. Kirm had worn it in every game since entering the Naval academy and regarded it as a lucky omen.

His worries were relieved yesterday when the headgear—so badly worn that a thoughtful equipment manager at West Virginia Wesleyan wrapped it in tissue paper and marked the package "fragile"—was returned by mail with the explanation that it had been mixed up in the Virginia equipment last week and carried away.

N. Y. U. Faces Tough Assignment in Georgia

New York, Nov. 4.—(UP)—Coach Chick Meehan and his New York University Violets face a difficult task Saturday in their attempt to uphold eastern football prestige against the attack of the University of Georgia.

Unless N. Y. U. can turn in a victory—and stopping Georgia's march to the national championship appears to be a task beyond the Violets' capabilities—the east will be forced to admit that football as played in other sections is superior.

Georgia, undefeated to date with victories over V. P. I., Yale, North Carolina, Vanderbilt and Florida, has been established as an 8 to 5 favorite.

No Bids Received for State Highway Bonds

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 3.—(UP)—For the first time in the history of the state no bids were received today when the time for opening bids for $1,400,000 of highway bonds came.

The bonds were to have been sold to provide money for refunding to Hennepin county for work on trunk highways as well as for the general highway fund.

General demoralization of the bond market was blamed. Minnesota fared no worse than other states, bond men said. Local firms offered to try to sell part of the issue if the state would purchase the remainder with trust fund moneys.

State Treasurer Julius Schmahl announced he would seek a meeting of the state investment board to act on the proposal.

HOOVER, MANAGER CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM TO ATTEND REUNION

CHAMPIONSHIP STANFORD TEAM OF YEARS AGO TO GATHER AT "TRAINING TABLE" NOV. 12

Washington, Nov. 4.—(UP)—A championship Leland Stanford university football team will gather around the "training table" with its business manager of those days here next week.

The business manager was a chunky youth named "Bert" Hoover. The re-peat will be an elaborate banquet in the state dining room of the White House Nov. 12.

The surviving members of that all star team of 1894—bankers, lawyers, doctors, all of them prominent—will gather from London, Honolulu, and scattered parts of this country.

One of the members of the team is Jackson Reynolds, president of the First National Bank of New York. He was the halfback who dashed through the University of Chicago team to give Stanford a 12 to 0 victory in the first East-West intercollegiate game.

ATTENDANCE AT FOOTBALL GAMES SHOWS SHORT LEFT HOOK GRADUAL DECLINE DURING OCTOBER

Some of the Big Ten schools have slashed the prices of tickets behind the goal posts, a wise move regardless of other conditions. There has never been any logic to charging $4 for a seat on the 50-yard line and the same price for one behind the goal posts.

Purdue has set a new low for Big Ten football tickets by reducing the price of seats behind the goal posts to 50 cents for Saturday's game with Centenary at Lafayette.

Most of the leading Big Ten games this season have drawn as well as last year, with the exception of games played by Illinois, represented by one of its weakest teams in history. At this time last year two games, the Michigan-Ohio State and Michigan-Illinois games, each had attracted a crowd of 70,000. The Michigan-Ohio State game again drew a 70,000 crowd this year, but the attendance at the Michigan-Illinois game, usually a standout in this region, dwindled away to 35,000.

A comparison of the biggest crowds up to this time at Big Ten games the past two years follows:

1930—Michigan-Ohio State, 70,000; Michigan-Illinois, 70,000; Purdue-Michigan, 45,000; Northwestern-Ohio State, 40,000; Wisconsin-Purdue, 30,000.

1931—Michigan-Ohio State, 70,000; Minnesota-Wisconsin, 50,000; Northwestern-Ohio State, 41,000; Wisconsin-Purdue, 35,000; Michigan-Illinois, 35,000.

WANGLEY PUTS OVER HARD RIGHT CROSS FOLLOWED BY KNOCKOUT BLOW

Minneapolis, Nov. 4.—(UP)—Paul Wangley, Minneapolis, 126, knocked out young Pete Firpo of Detroit, 125, in the second round of a scheduled to round main event of a fight card last night.

Wangley landed the first decisive blow of the fight in the second round, a right cross and followed it with a short left hook of tremendous power that stretched Firpo on the canvas.

The best bout of the evening brought together Jack Sharkey, Minneapolis, 124½, and Wibur Chevalier, Milwaukee, 125, for eight rounds. Sharkey looked like a winner at the close of the sixth round with two clear rounds margin. Chevalier, however, dipped into his stamina and slugged his way to a draw in the last two sessions.

Johnny Early, Minneapolis, 133½, defeated Bert Duchene, Minneapolis, 129, in four rounds.

Ace of Spades, Wolf Point, Mont., 158½, defeated Dave Lasky, Minneapolis, 155, in four rounds.

Harold Segal, Minneapolis, 175, shaded Lou Gans, Minneapolis, 124, in four rounds. Bob Cannifax, Fort Snelling, 186, outpointed Johnny Baker, Minneapolis, 183, in four rounds. Pat Arnold, Minneapolis, knocked out Young McLean, Minneapolis, one round. Young Nomen defeated Johnny Kiboy in four rounds.

Los Angeles, Nov. 4.—(UP)—Kid Francis, New York, 122½, and Varias Milling, Manila, 124½, drew (10).

Berlin—Considerable puzzlement prevailed when it came time for a baby boy to be registered near the villages of Konigswinter and Dollendorf, in the Rhineland. It seems that the boundary between the two villages passes right through and across the bed of the room in which the child was born. After some discussion, Konigswinter won the honor of being the birthplace.

It's Heat That You're After When You Buy Coal

CUT YOUR FUEL COSTS AND GET MORE HEAT

After all, to get a supply of coal is a very easy and simple matter. "Oh, this or that will do," one may say. And, in an hour or two, there it is! But there are other people who use more care in ordering coal, and thus reap a good deal more profit and comfort from it. They figure rightly that it isn't coal but HEAT they want to buy, and so they find out about the heating qualities of different fuels. Next, they naturally want the most heat they can get for each dollar—and so they buy coal for its heat value, not its price. And each year more and more people demand fuel which gives them greater convenience and cleanliness. A coal that leaves only pure ashes to take care of, one that gives heat without constant attention. A coal that does not make the house dusty and dirty all winter long. Any housewife will appreciate a dust-free, clean burning coal.

Now you can get all these necessary qualities in a single fuel: more heat, more comfort, more cleanliness per dollar, when you buy STANDARD COAL.

Standard Coal... Gives Quick Heat Easy To Regulate

Standard Coal is the ideal fuel for home use. It leaves less than a bushel of ash to the ton, contains no rock, slate or other visible impurities, and it is easy to regulate for quick, hot fire or for slow, steady heat. Thus it requires less STANDARD COAL to keep your home comfortably heated at all times, and is sure to reduce your heating costs. You have merely to tend your furnace morning and evening to enjoy comfortable heat all day. Think of that for convenience.

RULES GOVERNING YULE TREE CUTTING SAME AS IN PAST

ONE AND A QUARTER MILLION TREES TO BE CUT IN STATE TO MEET DEMAND

Laws governing the harvest and transportation of Christmas trees within the state of Minnesota will be the same as previous years, according to the statement issued today by Governor M. Conzel, director of forestry, through E. H. Rhodes, district ranger.

These regulations are:
The person cutting trees on land which he does not own must have a written permit from the land owner.

Persons transporting trees by truck must carry this permit, to be exhibited upon demand of any officer of the law.

A land owner, cutting trees on his land and transporting them himself, should carry his October 31, 1931, tax receipt with him.

No trees can be cut from tax delinquent land.

The state does not sell Christmas trees from state land.

The permit referred to in the regulations is a bill of sale from the land owner, showing the legal description of the land from which the trees are cut, the name of the legal owner and signed by the owner. This form establishes the ownership of the trees which are being cut or transported.

The forest rangers, wardens and patrolmen, game wardens, any officer of the law and officers of the Conservation department have the authority to request the permit or to stop a vehicle which may be carrying trees, for investigation.

The Christmas tree law was enacted in 1927 and has been enforced each year since. It was designed to prevent trespass and theft of trees from private or state land, and has the hearty support of all legitimate operators.

The annual cut necessary to meet the demand amounts to approximately one and one-quarter million trees. About one-third of this cut is used by Minnesota citizens, with approximately 800,000 trees being shipped out of the state.

Over-production and smaller demand during the 1930 season created a waste of trees estimated between one-quarter and one-third of the cut. Ideal fall weather and an unusually large number of unemployed men contributed to the over-production. Lessened buying power of the public made a smaller demand.

Weather conditions during November and the first half of December will have a certain amount of control over the woods operations this year, but the market will remain similar to last year, it is predicted.

Persons intending to buy, cut or sell Christmas trees are urged to familiarize themselves with the regulations. Further information can be secured from the Division of Forestry Office, Old State Capitol, St. Paul, or from any of the district rangers.

Night Coughing Quickly Stopped

Night coughing is almost always caused by an irritated, inflamed throat; so is almost all coughing. Ordinary cough syrups do not reach these conditions, but Thoxine, a prescription exclusively for throat troubles, does. It relieves the irritation and the cough stops within 15 minutes. And Thoxine goes still further—it eliminates the internal cause which many times develops into serious illness.

A swallow of Thoxine before retiring absolutely prevents night coughing and insures a good night's sleep. It gives the same speedy relief for sore throat too. It contains no chloroform or other harmful drugs and children like it. Relief is guaranteed within 15 minutes or money back. 35c, 60c, and $1.00 bottles. Sold by Stage Drug Co.—Adv.

Ordinary cough syrups do not reach these conditions, but Thoxine, a prescription exclusively for throat troubles, does. It relieves the irritation and the cough stops within 15 minutes. And Thoxine goes still further—it eliminates the internal cause which many times develops into serious illness.

A swallow of Thoxine before retiring absolutely prevents night coughing and insures a good night's sleep. It gives the same speedy relief for sore throat too. It contains no chloroform or other harmful drugs and children like it. Relief is guaranteed within 15 minutes or money back. 35c, 60c, and $1.00 bottles. Sold by Skaug Drug Co.—Adv.

Just a Moment, Please

Are not your eyes your best friends? How long since you had them examined thoroughly?

Of course, they are your eyes, and if you want to abuse them it's your privilege, but the cost of examination is very moderate, so why not be careful?

MOVE TO RECOVER AMOUNT EMBEZZLED FROM SAVINGS ASS'N

SEE PROSPECTS OF RECOVERING ALL TAKEN FROM HENNEPIN SAVINGS AND LOAN

By United Press
Minneapolis, Nov. 4.—Preparations to institute actions to recover more than $300,000 which two officials of the Hennepin Savings and Loan Association embezzled in five years were undertaken today with prospects that the full amount may be recovered.

Lindsay S. Smith, assistant secretary of the association, now serving a 10 year term in the state penitentiary, yesterday confessed that his father, the late John L. Smith, secretary of the company was involved in the defalcations.

Suits are being prepared against the Fidelity Co. of Maryland which bonded both Smiths. The elder Smith was bonded for $50,000 and Lindsay for $25,000.

According to the younger Smith's confession, his father's embezzlements were made to pay taxes on large land holdings in the northern part of the state. His father spent approximately $5,000 a year for taxes.

A suit against the elder Smith's estate is now pending.

Lindsay Smith at first confessed that all the peculations in the association's accounts were chargeable to him but yesterday when confronted with documentary proof by state banking examiners, he revealed that his father had a part in the transactions.

The elder Smith died recently from gas poisoning.

Police Probe Shooting of Minneapolis Man

Minneapolis, Nov. 3.—(UP)—The mysterious shooting of Frank Leduc, Minneapolis, last night as he was walking along the railroad tracks west of the city was under police investigation today.

Leduc was walking with a friend, Earl Larson, toward their home west of the city after having visited a moving picture show. As they passed a string of box cars, a rifle sounded and Leduc fell, wounded through the shoulder.

CAPONE BROTHERS MAY GO TO FEDERAL PRISON TOGETHER

IF AL'S ATTORNEYS FAIL TO GAIN HIS RELEASE HE WILL BE READY TO START TERM

Chicago, Nov. 3.—(UP)—Al Capone and his brother Ralph, both convicted of income tax evasion, may go down to Leavenworth penitentiary together. Ralph, known also as (Bottles) Capone, must go within a few days as a result of the United States supreme court's refusal yesterday to review his case. If Al's attorneys fail to prevail on the supreme court to release him, from the county jail here on bond, he may be ready to go with Ralph, since he is reported anxious to begin serving his 11 years if there is no escaping it. Ralph faces a three year term. He was fined $11,000 while (Scarface Al's) fine was $50,000.

Two other public enemies, Terry Druggan and Frankie Lake, and State Representative Lawrence C. O'Brien may also be going to Leavenworth soon as a result of income tax troubles.

Lloyd George Resigns Post With Liberal Party

London, Nov. 4.—(UP)—David Lloyd George wrote to Sir Herbert Samuel today resigning the chairmanship of the parliamentary liberal party. His letter attacked "the disastrous course into which the party has been guided."

Lloyd George's action formally ends, for the present and probably forever, his leadership of the once great liberal party, now a distinctly minor element in the house of commons.

Samuel was elected chairman of the liberal parliamentary party as successor to Lloyd George.
